Numb. 676

Thursday, June 8. 1704.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 10.

Buda, May 24.

A Party that was sent out towards Hetruan, is return'd and reports, that Mako Szabo who was detach'd with 17 Companies of the Rebels, to joyn Count Caroli, was met and defeated by one of our Detachments, lost above half his Men, and was wounded dangerously himself. We have Advice that Prince Ragotski is about Kerkemet, and that there had been some Murmuring among his Troops, the Hungarians complaining that the Germans were punctually paid while themselves could get no Pay; but the Prince made all quiet again by representing that the Germans who had lifted themselves in his Service fought only for their Pay; but the Hungarians for a thing of more value than Money, Liberty. The Governour of Erla has agreed with Prince Ragotski to deliver that Place to him, if he be not succour'd by the 16th of June next.

Vienna, May 28. The Count of Leiningen Westerbürg, who is made a General of the Horse, is to go to Italy to command the Imperialists of Ostiglia, in the room of the deceased Prince of Vaudemont. Advice is come that the Field Marshal Heister encamp'd the 24th of this Month at Alba Regalis, whence the Malecontents were oblig'd to retire and intrench themselves at Simonturna. The Field Marshal has left his Baggage and Infantry under the Cannon of Alba Regalis, to follow the Malecontents with his Cavalry. Two Companies of the Malecontents, who not long since accepted the Amnesty, and who afterwards took Arms again, falling again to other day into General Heister's Hands were put to the Sword. We hear the Malecontents have repossest'd themselves of Sereth on the Waag. In the Absence of Prince Eugene of Savoy, the Counts Rappach and Breuner, preside in the Council of War at this Court. The 26th the Count of Lamberg set out from hence for Hungary, with new Instructions to treat with the Malecontents; he is arriv'd at Presburg.

From the Leid. Gaz. June 12. & Amst. Cour. June 14.

Vienna, May 31. The Ambassador from the Ottoman Porte arriv'd here the 29th, with a Retinue of 30 Persons; he was receiv'd at Neusidel by Monsieur de Praemeran Councillor of the Council of War, who conducted him hither with the usual Ceremonies. 'Tis not known yet what is the import of his Commission. The King of the Romans is determin'd to go into the Field against the Bavarian, and those Persons who are to attend him are order'd to be ready by the 28th of next Month. Yesterday came Advice, that General Ritschau being advanc'd from the River Mark with about 2000 Men towards the Waag, to joyn the Troops lying on the hither side that River under the Command of General Palfi Ban of Croaria, was surpriz'd and surrounded by a Body of 12000 of the Malecontents, who after a smart Fight kill'd about 1000 of his Men and put the rest to flight. He himself receiv'd 3 Wounds and escap'd from the Castle of Jablunka, but his Lady and several of his Officers were taken, with all the Baggage and 2 Pieces of Cannon. Lieutenant Colonel Morelli was kill'd in this Action. On the other side, General Heister broke up the 23d from about Alba Regalis, and marching all Night arriv'd in the Morning at Oerze, where he fell upon Count Anthony Esterhazy, who had 3000 Malecontents with him, and routed him, killing 2 or 300 of his Men, and taking 12 Waggon's loaded with Baggage. Here is a Report that a Turkish Envoy is come to Prince Ragotski. The two Deputies from the Malecontents that were here some time since, are come again, and have had Audience of the Emperor; but 'tis said propose very high Terms of Accommodation. 'Tis said effectual Means will be used to oblige the Jesuits and other Ecclesiasticks to bring in the Plate belonging to their several Churches, or to furnish a Sum of Money as an Equivalent.

From the Paris Gazette, dated June 7.

Madrid, May 23. The 11th of this Month the King receiv'd Advice of the taking of Penha Garcia, which was defended by a Castle situated very advantageously; 300 Portuguese, of which the Garrison was compos'd, surrendered at Discretion. The 12th his Majesty march'd from Salvaterra, and encamp'd at la Atalaya, 5 Leagues distant from Salvaterra. The Duke of Berwick advanc'd with a Detachment in sight of Idanha nova, 2 Leagues from the Camp at Atalaya; the Place is encompass'd with a pretty strong Wall, and a Castle belonging to it lyes at the Foot of a Hill; the Number of the Inhabitants was about 500; they were rich, it being a Place of great Trade. The same Day Prince Tserclaes de Tilly, who commands the Troops that advanc'd into Portugal from Badajos, sent out Parties which penetrated 15 Leagues into the Country, without meeting any of the Enemies Troops to oppose them; the Soldiers made a great Booty, they brought off a great number of Cattle, particularly 500 Cows, and Prince Tserclaes advanc'd in sight of Aronches. Don Francisco Ronquillo put that part of Portugal which lyes nearest Ciudad Rodrigo under Contribution as far as Almeida. The 13th the King being inform'd by the Duke of Berwick, who was return'd to the Camp, that the Garrison of Idanha nova appear'd resolv'd to defend themselves, and made great Firing, sent thither Don Joseph de Salazar Lieutenant General, with a Detachment and some Grenadiers. They arriv'd before the Place at Noon, the Grenadiers began the Attack, and made themselves Masters of a Gate, at which the rest enter'd Sword in Hand; the first that enter'd was Don Antonio Lopez Gallardo, formerly Governour of Pennon du Velez, who was wounded, as was also a Captain and some Soldiers; All that made Resistance were cut in Pieces, and none escap'd but those who first retiring to the Castle, afterwards got to the Mountains, and fled thro' almost unpassable Ways, flinging away their Arms. The Town was pillag'd, but those of the Inhabitants who fled into the Churches with their Effects were spar'd. This News was brought the same Day to the King by Don Fabrizio Ruffo a Neapolitan, one of his Majesty's Aydes de Camp, who was in the Action, and

He was immediately dispatch'd to give an Account of it to the Queen. The same Day (the 13th) our Parties brought into the Camp 500 Head of great Cattle, and a great number of Sheep, so that the Army abounds with Provisions. The 14th the King detach'd Don Francisco de Emperan with 200 Men, to possess himself of the Posts about Rosmarinnos, in which were some English and Dutch. He summon'd the Place to surrender, and upon the Governour's Refusal, his Majesty sent the Marquis de Thoy Lieutenant General, with 1200 Foot and 400 Horse, to attack it. The 15th the Grenadiers, having gain'd a rising Ground, advanc'd undiscover'd, and on another side the Troopers of the Regiment of Catalonia on foot, attack'd it so courageously that the Enemies yielded at Discretion; besides the Portuguese there were about 50 English or Dutch Soldiers with their Officers, who were kill'd. On this Attack only 5 Soldiers were kill'd, and 12 wounded. The Inhabitants sav'd part of their Effects in the Churches. The same Day Santa Margarita and l' Angel, dependant on Idanha, surrendred, as did also the Town of Provenca, the Inhabitants of which sent their Curate and Major to make their Submissions to his Majesty. The 16th the Count d' Aguilar with 1600 Foot and 400 Horse march'd at Day-break to attack Monforte, a Place very advantageously situated. The Duke d' Offome, the Duke of Bannos, the Marquis of Miranda, the Count of Torrejon, Don Gaspar Giron, Don Alonso Manrique, the Marquis of Lancarote, Don Juan de Prado, and other Persons of Quality, went with him as Volunteers. The Town was carried by Assault, after a great Resistance, and all the Garrison was put to the Sword, those excepted who found Means to retire to the Castle built on a very steep Hill, who yet surrendred at Discretion, after they had had 300 Men kill'd. The Soldiers made a great Booty, and on this Occasion 60 Spaniards were kill'd or wounded. After this, Monforte and Adveira surrendred. The 18th the Sieur de Geoffreville joyn'd the Army with his flying Camp. Since which 'tis advis'd, that the Marquis at Villadarias has entred Portugal on the Side nearest Ayamonte, has sack'd three Villages on the Frontier, and taken 1000 Head of Cattel. A Person being apprehended for dispersing Copies of the Archduke's Manifesto, and being discover'd to be a Familiar of the Holy Office, was sent to Seville to be tried, where he was condemn'd to Death, and executed.

Paris, June 7. We have receiv'd Advice, that Castel Branco in Portugal is taken, and that 4 Battallions of Dutch that had retir'd out of it, were every Man of them taken Prisoners.

Yarmouth, June 5. Last Saturday pass'd by on the back of our Sands about 300 Sail of laden Colliers under Convoy of Her Majesty's Ship the Assistance. And last Night and to day came in above 100 Sail of light Colliers under convoy of Her Majesty's Ships the Chester and Nightringal.
